

CHIEF HR OFFICER

- National responsibility for Human Resources
- Newly created transformational leadership role

Over the past year, The Salvation Army (TSA) has worked towards joining the two major Australian territories into one unified organisation that will deliver an aligned vision, united voice and the ability to make an even greater impact on the many people who depend upon its services.

Leading the delivery of HR services to a diverse workforce of TSA Officers and employees across Australia, the Chief HR Officer will be a key stakeholder in strategic planning, change management and organisational design. Key to the role will be ensuring that TSA has the appropriate HR programs in place to foster a talented, engaged workforce.

Skilled in people leadership, you will help guide the existing territorial HR teams through transition to a unified national function. Tertiary qualified in HR with high level leadership experience in a multi-faceted organisation with a national workforce, you will be a big picture thinker who can question the status quo and generate new ideas.

If you have the skills and experience to contribute to the wonderful work of this values-based organisation please apply to cv@dakinmayers.com.au by 17 July or call Philip Mayers on 1800 241 243 for more information. The role is based in Melbourne.
